Money for the project to be used from federal leases on 16 Section land.

On motion of L. N. Nescise the board voted to invite Fred Naylor of the State Finance Commission, to come to Hancock County at his earliest convenience to discuss building an elementary school in the west side of the county.

INJURY IN ACCIDENT NEAR BAY

Mack C. Herrin, 28, public information officer for National Aeronautics Space Administration, Mississippi Test Operations was injured at 7 p. m. Thursday last week when his automobile collided with another car on U. S. Highway 90 four miles west of Bay St. Louis.

State Ptn. Albert Mars said Herrin suffered fractures of the left arm and left leg in the collision with a car driven by Marvin C. Lacy, 57, 2201 25th Ave., Gulfport. Lacy was not hurt.

Herrin, who resides at 218 Buena Vista Dr., Bay St. Louis, was admitted to the Hancock County General Hospital for treatment.

Mars said Herrin had turned into Highway 90 from state Highway 43, which lead to the rocket test center now under construction, and was headed east towards Bay St. Louis when the left front of his car collided with the left front of the westbound Lacy automobile.

Damages were estimated at $600 to the Lacy car and at $500 to the small foreign car Herrin was driving.

OPPOSE PLAN TO HALT TRAIN

The Gulf Coast Municipal Officers Association went on record Monday night as opposing the discontinuance by the Louisville & Nashville railroad of commuter train service between Pass Christian and New Orleans.

The railroad has appealed to the Interstate Commerce Commission to allow them to discontinue commuter trains No. 9 and 12. The L & N claims the trains are being operated at a loss and the number of customers is declining.

Directors of the Pass Christian Chamber of Commerce also went on record and other Coast organizations as opposing the proposed discontinuance.

OTHER BUSINESS

Mayor John Scaife of Bay St. Louis told the municipal officers group at the monthly meeting held in the Pass Christian Yacht Club that they must be on the alert to prevent tampering by the 1964 state legislature with revenues now earmarked for municipalities.

Johnson got almost 62 per cent of the vote.

NASA News..

NEW ORLEANS, La. - The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced the signing of a supplemental agreement to the contract with the Boeing Company, Seattle, Washington, for the development, fabrication and test of the first stage of the Saturn V manned lunar landing space vehicle.

The agreement realigns manufacture, assembly and support responsibilities for the 7.5 million pound thrust first stage (S-IC) at an additional cost of $27,443,676.

The Marshall Space Flight Center, Huntsville, Ala., is responsible for technical development of the Saturn launch vehicle and management of the contract.

Under a contract awarded in February, 1963, 10 S-IC's - one test stage and nine flight vehicles, will be built by Boeing Company Saturn Booster Branch at the Marshall Center's Michoud Operations in New Orleans. Three ground test vehicles of the S-IC flight stage will be assembled by the Marshall Center at Huntsville.

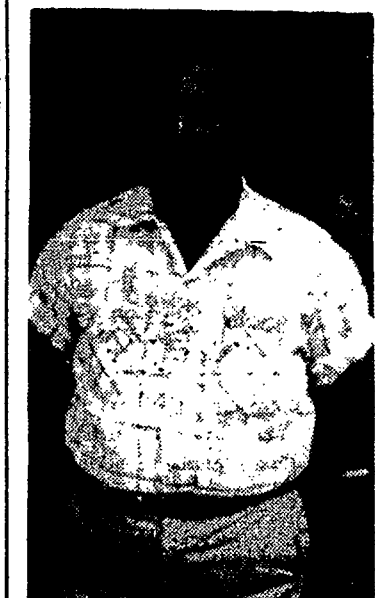

The S-IC, 33 feet in diameter and 138 feet in height, will be the first on the nation's first manned lunar landing mission.

Changes under the modified contract included substitution of the facilities checkout stage (S-IC-F) for the dynamic test stage (S-IC-D). The S-IC-D will be built by Marshall for dynamic test of the stage in Huntsville, while the S-IC-F will be the first test stage to be assembled at Michoud by Boeing.

The S-IC-F stage is scheduled to be shipped to NASA's Launch Operations Center, Cape Canaveral, in the summer of 1965, for test of launch facilities presently being constructed at the Merritt Island Launch Area.

Under the revised plan, Boeing will provide certain structural sub-assemblies to Marshall in support of the Center's S-IC manufacturing program, and will establish a GAINESVILLE, MISS., NOV. 19, 1963 - General Electric's new office building is presently under construction at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Mississippi Test Operation. The new facility will provide office space for General Electric's Mississippi Test Support Operation personnel, who are supplying technical and plant support to this NASA facility. Until the new building is completed, General Electric personnel are utilizing several remodeled houses on the site to carry on their activities. The new building will be an interim structure until permanent facilities are constructed by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

William R. Eaton, General Manager of General Electric's Mississippi Test Support Operation, stated that "the need for the new building was due to present facilities having become outgrown and working conditions somewhat cramped. The new General Electric facility will increase the amount of space and provide additional efficiency in performing our assigned tasks."

General Electric is responsible for providing technical and plant support for the Mississippi Test Operation. These services include: (1) Plant Support; such things as utilities, personnel, transportation, plant security, fire protection, medical facilities, plant maintenance, reproduction and graphic arts, and (2) Technical Support; such things as control and command systems, support services for data acquisition and handling, engineering services, a component service facility and shop and field service.

The new building is expected to be completed and occupied by General Electric on the 10th of December.

November 19, 1963

Dear Editor

Mr. T. H. Naylor
Mr. A. P. Smith
P. O. Box 771Woolfolk State Office Building
Jackson, Miss.

Dear Sirs:

We read by publication the letter sent you under the signature of Mrs. August Usher, Secretary, Gulfview CO-OP Club. We express our sympathy for Gulfview and hope their condition can be alleviated.

However we sincerely hope the Board of Education will not be short-sighted as the people who addressed them. It would be foolhardy to rob the children and taxpayers of the Pearlington area comprising Beat 1 who have been beset by the NASA Program, to appease an outlying section which geographically is miles away.

The request for money that morally and inherently belongs to our school facility and relocation of it is comparable to the method used by scavengers when a catastrophe occurs.

We know that the intelligent thinking members of the School Board will want to give us the opportunity to relocate our facility as it was intended and heretofore approved by the Hancock County School Board.

Respectfully,

Speckle Ketcher

Testing for speckles up Jordan River until Tuesday was every bit as exciting as the past couple of weeks. They have let up. They have caught on plugs with and without a trailer. Some of the trout weighed from a pound and a half to 3 pounds. Specks were hit late in the afternoon when tide was rising. The morning fishing was not too hot. Some of the trout were hitting dead bait. Of course a good number are caught with live shrimp and minnows. Up to now specks have been mostly by Bayou Lafourche and that section is furnishing lots of speckles. Big ones. Boats can be secured at Necaise's Camp on Bayou Lafourche.

Raul Telhard has been getting his share of specks for the past week up Jordan River. He is one of our best fishermen and knows how to get them.

Sam Kirwer of Pass Christian loves his hunting and fishing and he has been doing quite a bit of it lately. He is always ready to go.

Fat Garcia and yours truly caught a nice bunch of specks Sunday afternoon. They were all nice fish.

Sorry to hear of the illness of Lucien Oak. Sr. Paul has been confined to the hospital for some time and we hope he continues to improve. His favorite sport is trolling for specks.

Louis Schwall and Doc Elliott did some trolling up the river Monday. Only caught a few. Better luck next time Louis.

As usual some of those speed hull demons are making it hard for those trolling by passing them at full speed. Be decent and slow down when passing other boats. It helps a whole lot.

Everyone can't own speed hulls but enjoy fishing as much as you with what they have. Don't try to show how fast your boat can go. We know it.

Saw quite a few ducks up the river the past couple of days. Should have some pretty good hunting when the season opens.

The weather of the past couple of weeks has been ideal for fishing but a little cooler weather will help a whole lot. Speckles strike better in cold weather. The water is still a bit warm.

The recent rains over the state have helped the hunters. In addition to the rain, the early morning fog and dews are helping the squirrel hunters; but we still have not had enough rain for the long drought that we have had. If you go into the woods to hunt, please be careful. Our forests are still powder dry. As yet, we have not had a serious fire caused by a hunter in Mississippi.

Good news for those who like quail hunting.

Game Warden Pete Beard said from reports that he has received there were 52 broods of quail hatched during the past month. "Each brood averaged 13.2 birds," added Beard. "Only one brood was reported to be less than eight weeks old, with most of them being about 10 weeks of age," stated Beard. This indicates peak nesting occurred in mid-July.

From these and other indications Mississippi bird hunters should have a fine hunting season. The 1963-64 quail season opens on Monday, December 2, and will run through February 9, except in Benton, DeSoto, Marshall, Tippah and Tunica Counties, where the season shall be from December 2 through January 31.

Daily Bag Limit will be eight (8) birds per day with the possession limit of 16.

According to those who go through the woods there are plenty of quail in our section.

If you have not applied for your deer camp permit for the 1963 hunting season, you should do so now. As of Friday, November 8, a total of 563 deer camp permits have been issued.

Everyone that operates a deer camp in the state must have a permit. This permit may be obtained from the Game and Fish Commission, free of charge.

Last year there were 627 deer camp permits issued for all the deer seasons. This year's total should exceed last year's.

The first goose season has closed but the second season will open on December 2, and run through Jan. 15, 1964. According to the Mississippi Game and Fish Commission geese should be plentiful at that time.

Have not received much information on what green trout are doing but we do know that they are being caught by casting and trolling with underwater baits. The tides are too low in the mornings just now and rising in the afternoon. Falling tides in the afternoons always go for better green trout fishing. Tides should change shortly. For speckles rising tides are best.

The term "Deer Camp" for the purpose of this act, shall be construed to mean any location or encampment operated by a person either on his own lands or on the lands of another where dogs, horses, and other accommodations for the deer hunters are maintained, and where deer hunters use same as a lodging place and headquarters while hunting deer.

For those fishermen who throw out the anchor as if it were an old auto engine are throwing objects on the bottom of the boat. The Indians used to throw their spears at the anchor.

A fisherman must do the same. He must actually stalk the larger game fish. Wear dark clothes, and be super-quiet when approaching a likely hole.

Fish are alarmed by your stumbling against rocks, splashing the boat or anchor, scraping the tackle box on the bottom of the boat, or squeaky carlocks in other words, avoid vibrations. The Only Rule is, Fish Should Be In The Of Your Lure. Falling On The Water.

Fishing off the railroad and highway bridges has been fairly good lately. Some large specks and other fish are being caught daily. Dragging for flounders usually pays off. Ask those who do this kind of fishing. There is a skill to it.

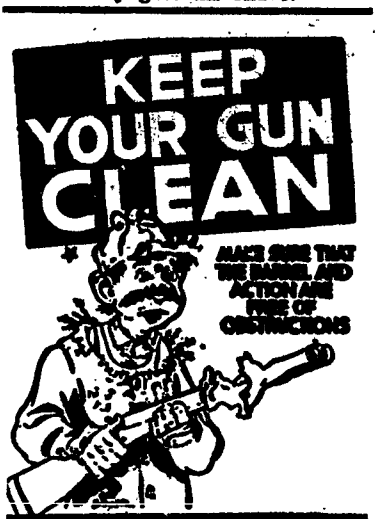

LOCAL SPORTSMAN

VINCENT LAGROUE

Our picture this week is of Vincent Lagroue who loves fishing best of all.

In former years he would walk miles to go fishing on the bayous and across the highway bridge to the other side. Shown with him is his new bicycle which is his only means of transportation. Vincent says "It makes walking a pleasure." He is a good fisherman and usually gets his share.

"RAISING" CHILDREN BY THE BOOK

We have a choice in America . . . a choice denied millions who live under godless communism.

Here is a man who is exercising that choice! He believes that children growing up in the free world ought to know the Author of Liberty. He wants his son and daughter to cherish and embrace the spiritual insights God has given man.

This father introduced his children to the Bible when they were very young. Today the Book of the Ages is their friend. Tomorrow it will be their guide through the frightening age to which they have been born.

The American Bible Society — supported by earnest Christian citizens and the churches they attend — enables millions of families around the globe to share our heritage of Truth with this new generation on whose spiritual fibre rests the hope of the world.

SUPPORT THE WORK OF THE AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Social Security

"Retirement" is not a word that has been used more often than "Social Security" in the past few years. The dictionary defines "Retirement" as a withdrawal from active services. It does not say it is a withdrawal from all services. It is pointed out by Jerome H. Drane, manager of the Gulfport Social Security Office, that Social Security requires a person to stop work completely to get retirement payments.

Drane said, "There are many people past 62 who are still working. In many cases, they draw money, if not all their Social Security payments, while they continue to work." Mr. Drane said men as well as women take time to get the facts. A person could cost money. He explained that payments may be made each month if annual earnings are no more than $1200 a year. For those who earn more than $1200 a year, $1 in benefits will be held back for every $2 of earnings between $1200 and $1700. For earnings over $1700, 1 dollar in benefits will be withheld for each dollar earned. The Gulfport manager said, "Payments can be made for any month the worker does not earn more than $100 and is not actively working in self-employment. When a person is 72, checks can be paid no matter how much he earns." Mr. Drane stated that in recent months, many people in this area have been asking about their right to social security payments. Quite a few have found they could get some payments and keep working at their jobs. He believes there are others that haven't yet taken time to check into this. He suggested that these people write for booklet OASI-23c. It's free and explains why you may not have to retire to get social security payments.

For more information write or visit the social security office at 1022 32nd Avenue in Gulfport. A representative of this office visits Bay St. Louis on the first and third Tuesdays of each month. He is at the Youth Center, Uman Avenue, from 9:30 a. m. until noon.

The entire second floor will be remodeled for use by the bookkeeping and proof and deposit departments, conference and meeting rooms, storage area, and other facilities.

renovation of the second floor will provide approximately 4000 square feet of additional space.

Leo W. Seal, Jr., president of the bank, told those present that renovations of this nature will cause an inconvenience both to customers and staff. He requested them to "bear with the situation and to look forward to a brighter, more pleasant, and more spacious banking house in the near future."

NO ACTION THIS YEAR

WASHINGTON - Time may be running out fast for any congressional action this year on civil rights.

Administration leaders long ago abandoned hope for a Senate vote but had counted on getting action this year at least in the House.

They aren't so sure now, but the House Judiciary Committee has approved a broad civil rights measure with the support of the Kennedy Administration. Now it must figure a way to get the bill on the House floor for a vote.

Committee members have been given until next Monday to submit their written views on the bill for inclusion in a formal report. Not until the report is written and available for general use can the Judiciary Committee request a hearing before the Rules Committee.

The request for a hearing could go to the Rules Committee chairman, Howard W. Smith, D-Va., late next week.

Smith is a zealous opponent of the civil rights bill, and while he has not disclosed his course of action, colleagues say he would resort to any legitimate means to block it.

He cannot ignore indefinitely a formal request for a hearing, but he can delay the hearing and force a majority of his 15-member group to order a session over his objections. It would take a week or longer to get a committee meeting if Smith objected.

That procedure alone would delay committee consideration until after Thanksgiving.

Once a hearing is ordered, Smith charts its course. He is expected to hear every member of the House who has an interest in the bill.

Foes of the legislation seem confident that they can delay action until almost Christmas. They doubt that the House leadership would schedule a showdown vote at that late date.

"It doesn't look too good right now," a House lieutenant said privately. "We may have to put it off until next year."

WOOL GROWERS URGED TO KEEP RECORDS YEAR ENDS DEC. 31

Wool growers who market their lambs in the fall should remember to keep adequate records of their sales so that they will be able to make proper applications for payment under the wool incentive program, according to John W. Haynes, Office Manager, Hancock Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Office.

The sales record for lambs sold should include the name of the buyer, his signature, and the number and live weight of lambs sold, plus the description "unshorn." Lamb payments are made only on lambs that have never been shorn, to discourage unusual shearing of lambs before selling.

The office manager also reminds growers that current marketings of wool and lamb through December 31, 1963, will qualify for incentive payments under the wool program for the 1963 marketing year ended March 31.

Beginning in 1964, the marketing year will be the calendar year. Growers are urged to file their applications for payment, supported by the required sales documents, with the ASCS county office as soon as possible after their final sales are completed. While the final date to apply for payments on 1963 marketings will be January 31 of next year - covering marketings of wool and lambs from April 1, 1963, through December 31, 1963 - an application may be submitted at any time between now and then.

Mr. Haynes said that lamb feeders particularly should keep accurate records which will establish the length of time they have owned lambs on which they apply for payment. Lamb payments are made only on lambs which a producer has owned for 30 days or more, and the amount of payment is based on the weight gain of the lambs during the seller's ownership.

4-H NAMES 1953 STATE WINNER IN FOODS NUTRITION PROGRAM

Dale Weaver of Smithville, 19-year-old student at Mississippi State College, is the 1953 winner of the Mississippi 4-H Foods-Nutrition Award.

As state winner, Miss Weaver will be attending the 42nd National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago on December 1-5 as a guest of General Foods Corporation, sponsor of the nationwide Foods-Nutrition Program. Joining her will be winners from the 49 other states and Puerto Rico. While in Chicago, six of the group will be named national winners and be awarded $500 college scholarships by General Foods.

Miss Weaver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arna Weaver, R. F. D. 1, Smithville, has been active in 4-H work for ten years and is a member of the Smithville Community Co-Workers Club. In 1962, she won a state vegetable judging contest and was awarded a trip to Miami, Florida. At Mississippi State, Miss Weaver is majoring in home economics. She plans to become a dietitian.

Now in its third year, the Foods-Nutrition Program is the largest single program in the nationwide 4-H movement. Approximately 800,000 4-H members participated this year. Its purpose is to focus the attention of youngsters on the importance of nutrition in their lives and the lives of their families present and future.

Younger 4-H members in the program complete simple projects such as listing their favorite foods, and foods they don't like or haven't tasted. Advanced members study nutrition, plan balanced family meals and entire menus, shop for the food, cook it, then serve it on a properly set table. Many also enter prize recipes and demonstrate modern food methods recommended by the 4-H Cooperative Extension Service.

During their five days at the Congress in Chicago, the 51 Foods-Nutrition state winners will be lectured, addressed by leaders in government, education and business.

A new multi-purpose barn developed by U. S. Steel Corp.'s agricultural engineers features special corrosion resistant slotted steel floors and piling underneath which run the full length of the barn for easy removal of manure. Steel in the slotted floors is USS Cor-Ten, known for its superior corrosion resistance in manure spreaders and hog pen floor applications.

The use of clear-span trusses also eliminates interior obstructions, so that the all-steel structure can be easily adapted for beef or dairy cattle, hogs, chickens or grain drying.
